

Cookie regulations Faculty Association Ibn Battuta

The website www.ibnbattuta.nl, hereafter 'website', makes use of cookies. A cookie is a simple, small file that gets sent to your browser, after which your browser saves them on the hard disk of your computer. The herein saved information can be sent back to the servers of Ibn Battuta during your next visit of the website. In this cookie regulation Ibn Battuta will explain which cookies are placed and for which goals.

Proper functioning of the website

Ibn Battuta uses cookies to make the website function properly. These functional cookies are solely used for this purpose. Ibn Battuta for example uses a cookie that saves the font you use and cookies that make sure you stay logged in on the website (in case you checked this box). You can block these cookies via your browser, but this can negatively influence the functioning of the website.

Social media / Company profile buttons

On the website you can find several buttons that link to Facebook posts, company websites and other external websites. Using these buttons also place cookies on your hard disk. These buttons work through small codes that are coming from the external websites themselves. Ibn Battuta has no influence on these codes. Please read through the privacy regulation of these networks to read what they do with the (personal) data that they obtain through these cookies.

Tracking and profiling

Ibn Battuta also uses so called tracking cookies to build a profile about you through the 'Google Analytics' tool. However, Ibn Battuta has no further use for these cookies, as we do not place any kind of (personalized) advertisements on the website, which is the common use of these cookies.

Google Analytics

Through the website cookies are being placed by the company Google, as part of the 'Google Analytics' service. Ibn Battuta uses this service to keep track of how visitors of the website use the website. Google can give this information to third parties when Google is lawfully obligated to do so, or to an extent that third parties use information in the name of Google. Ibn Battuta has no influence on this. However, Ibn Battuta makes sure that all IP addresses are anonymised so that no IP addresses are sent to Google.

Right of inspection and correction or deletion of your data

You have the right of asking for inspection, correction or deletion of your data. Look into the contact page of Ibn Battuta. When this is about the inspection of personal data linked to a cookie, you have to send in a copy of the cookie at issue. You can find these back in the settings of your browser.

You can usually delete cookies via the settings of your browser. More information on switching cookies on/off and deleting cookies can be found in the instructions and/or aided by the Help-function of your browser.
